

Amber Dayton, Alto

Amber Dayton has been singing as the alto scholar for First Metropolitan Church Choir since September of 2017. Her primary instrument is actually piano, started at the age of 13. She is a piano performance major at Uvic, entering third year. Throughout her post-secondary education she has been placed on honour roll every semester of study as well as awarded numerous scholarships, such as the Wood International Piano Scholarship of 2017 from the VCM.

In addition to a passion for classical piano, Amber enjoys playing jazz, songwriting, and singing at open-mic nights. Following an undergraduate degree in music performance, she wants to get her master's in the study of how kinesiology and psychology relate to and influence the playing of an instrument and singing.
